PRMTR-10-GR-002-EUR-042810: Turkish, Armenian and American Youth Leadership Development

The Office of Public Affairs of the U.S. Embassies in Turkey and Armenia, U.S. Department of State, invites applications to conduct a three- to four-week program in the United States followed by two week-long programs in Turkey and Armenia focusing on youth leadership, cross-cultural communications, community activism and cultural sharing. The 25 Armenian and 25 Turkish participants will be secondary school students from socio-economically less advantaged families and communities who have limited opportunities to interact on an international level but have completed at least 4 years of English and have achieved an intermediate level of communicative proficiency in the language. 25 Americans from the same age cohort with interests in community activism and engagement will also participate. The U.S. exchange portion of the project should be scheduled to take place during the Turkish, Armenian and American school summer break (late June through early September) for a 3-4 week period. The Armenian and Turkish exchange portions of the program should be scheduled during a mutually convenient time for about 1 week in each country 3-6 months following the US-based exchange program.
